Marriages:

The common policy of marriage requires that arrangements be made at least One Year before the date of marriage and before any social plans are made. Bride or Groom must be a parishioner. Please do not make any arrangements until you have met with the pastor, Msgr. Corona, and the wedding date has been approved.

Lazarus Ministry:

Lazarus Ministry contacts and helps families of deceased parishioners. Providing greeters at funeral liturgies, preparing meals and house sitting are several ways parishioners assist families. Also, a Mass of Remembrance is held every November for those deceased that year.

Blessings to All!!!

"..they fell down and worshipped him. Then they opened their treasures and offered him gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh..." - Matthew 2:11

Notice the order of events in the Magi's visit. First, they knelt before Jesus and prayed to Him. Then they presented Him with their gifts. We, too, must take time to pray before we present our gifts to the Lord. We never know what God may be asking us to share!

Dear Sisters and Brothers,

At this time of year in the Northern Hemisphere, we long for light. Often the days are dark and grey. The sun seems to have lost its strength and the light is weak. It is now just over two weeks since the winter solstice and there is slight, almost imperceptible, lengthening of the day. This brings a feeling of hope. The sun will return, and heat and warmth will once again stir the cold earth.

Five thousand years ago, ancient peoples built burial chambers that would be illuminated by the sun on the shortest day, such as the one I saw in Ireland during my last trip there. The sun shone along a carefully fashioned stone passage and illuminated the entire chamber where human remains had been placed. Did such building projects originate from the desire for the return of light and warmth of the sun or was there a primitive understanding of a rebirth after death? We can only speculate. These stone monuments still evoke a sense of wonder and mystery as they are illuminated on the shortest day. Looking towards the eastern sky in the morning, it is a great sign of hope when the sky begins to brighten. A modern hymn opens with the words, "Longing for light, we wait in darkness".

As we wait for the light to return, so the people of Israel waited for the light of a Messiah who would proclaim a new kingdom and give people a new promise. Today's celebration of the Epiphany proclaims that Christ is the Messiah, the glory of God, who is like light breaking into the night and who gives a new hope and rebirth to the people that walked in darkness.

We come to the crib and look into the manger to see the Christ child lying in the feeding place for the animals. He is our food for life. With childlike wonder we look into the crib and see the kings gathering to worship this child and bringing their gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh. They are gifts of great extravagance fit for a king and God. The gift of myrrh is a sign of suffering and the anointing of the dead, and so a shadow falls over this scene of joy and hope. The fulfilment of the life of this child will be poured out on the cross so that we can have life, with our sins forgiven. The cross stands over this scene of Christmas and promises victory, hope and rebirth.

Another shadow falls over the scene. It is the long shadow reaching from Jerusalem and the court of Herod, who lives in the fear of a new king who will replace him and usurp his throne. Herod's desire to speak to these travellers from the east was not out of curiosity or love but rather full of malicious intent. The recently completed Temple of Herod, glinting in the sun with its golden roof, was one of the wonders of the world, to be admired and wondered at by the many pilgrims to the city of Jerusalem. A child who would be king of the Jews might threaten Herod's power and his corrupt and oppressive reign. From the backwater of Bethlehem there comes a new king and a new shepherd of Israel. The magi worship and adore the Christ child in all his fragility, vulnerability and innocence. He becomes the new temple before whom we bow down and worship.

After our hectic celebration of Christmas, today's feast helps us to grasp more deeply the gift that has been given to us and the revelation of the Christ child who will save us and who desires that all people hear his message of hope. What difference does this birth make to our lives as we resume our regular timetables and schools reopen?

Pope Francis challenges us to share the joy of the Gospel with people we meet. Maybe we can help a friend to find new meaning because of the celebration of Christmas. Perhaps we may have a new desire to speak of the birth of Christ. Maybe we are more ready to love in a difficult situation. The Epiphany invites us to find a new path and a new route as we begin this year. The Gospel message calls us to be more open to people who are fragile and vulnerable, weak and poor, and in this way share our hope and joy with others.

May God always be pleased with us!

Monsignor Michael

Our Scripture Lessons remind us:

...that during winter, we long for light and warmth to return to the earth and brighten our days;

...that the Christ child revealed to the wise men, is the light of the world who gives hope to people who walk in darkness. We too are invited to bow down and worship this king who is God;

...and that the feasts of Christmas and Epiphany invite us to live our Christian faith in new ways.

May God always be pleased with us. Amen!

JANUARY 4, 2015 - THE EPIPHANY OF THE LORD

ST. ANN SCHOOL NEWS

Dear Friends of St. Ann School,

The day before Christmas break, the school gathered for a prayer service. We celebrated the end of our Advent waiting and the birth of Jesus. We used scripture and song and put our entire selves into understanding, reverencing, and recognizing what the upcoming days meant to us and our faith.

One of the activities reminded students that they were created in the image and likeness of God. It went further to help the children understand that they were adopted members of Jesus family. As such, that made them all princes and princesses. Everyone knows that such royalty wears a crown showing their status in life.

Students decorated crowns with the good they have done or the special talents or gifts they have received from God. We had diamonds of music and sports, rubies of loyalty and friendship, gold of learning and knowledge, and silver of leadership and creativity.

The school then listened attentively to the story of the magi who followed the star. We were then the magi. We followed a star until we stood before the portrayal of the nativity by our 8th graders. In imitation of the Kings, each child bowed before the infant Jesus and offered their crown, which represented all that they were and could be. This was our special gift.

It was very moving and a powerful reminder to the children that Christmas really is about Jesus and what we do in His name.

Our wish for you is that whatever star you follow will lead you to the Christ child. We wish that you too could lay down your importance in humble acknowledgement that it is Jesus alone who is God and man. He is the only one who can give us the truest gifts of peace, joy, and love.

Merry Christmas and God bless you,

Sr. Mary Klersey, MPF
Principal
