ST. ANN SCHOOL CAFETERIA

MARCH 29, 2015 - PALM SUNDAY

Dear Sisters and Brothers,

Everyone loves a hero. We love to celebrate their triumphs. Our sporting heroes receive public recognition, parades and awards, and we bask in the reflected glory that shines on us as their supporters or fellow citizens. Such glory, however, is short-lived. An athlete reaches his or her peak and enjoys the top spot for only a short time. Other heroes in public life soon lose their popularity as their ratings drop. People are very quick to drop their allegiance to a loser; they always want to be on the winning side.

In the Gospels, Jesus was very careful not to present himself as a popular hero. At the beginning of his public ministry, part of the devil's temptations had been precisely this---to be the Messiah of the people's expectations, a wonderworker, a political revolutionary. The mission of Jesus was, however, to do the will of his Father. It was fidelity to the will of God that led Jesus ultimately to the events that we celebrate during this coming week. We begin with remembering the triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem, the acclamation of the crowds waving their palm branches and shouting "Hosanna" to the descendant of their great king, David. But this is not the victorious king with his conquering army. This is the humble teacher, riding on a donkey at the head of his ragtag band of disciples. Carried away by the emotion of the moment, the crowd misses the point that this is the king of Zechariah's prophecy, humbly riding on a donkey.

As we read the account of the passion of Jesus from St. Mark's Gospel today, we move with Jesus through the events of that first Holy Week. Against the background of plotting and betrayal, Jesus accepts the loving tenderness of one who prophetically anoints him in preparation for his burial. He shares his last Passover meal with the disciples, again prophetically acting out his approaching death in the sacrament of his body and blood, and, in the garden of Gethsemane, Jesus goes through an agony of anticipation, freely accepting the will of his Father, which will lead to his arrest and condemnation.

In the meantime, we find the disciples in a complete state of denial. They had enjoyed a brief experience of triumph, but now their world was crumbling. Jesus was speaking of a betrayal of which they would all be guilty. They could not accept this, but their only response was to fall asleep while Jesus agonised, anticipating his passion, and finally accepting it as the will of his Father. When Jesus was arrested, they all deserted him and ran away. In his Gospel, St. Mark makes no excuses for the disciples' lack of understanding and cowardice, indeed he highlights it in Peter's threefold denial of Jesus. Even the special friends of Jesus are weak like the rest of us.

If the disciples could change so much, how much more could the crowds? On Sunday they had shouted their Hosannas, while on Friday they shouted, "Crucify him!" On Sunday they welcomed him with palm branches, on Friday they saw him crowned with thorns and enthroned as "king of the Jews" on the cross at Golgotha, and they jeered and spat at him.

So how can we effectively take part in the commemoration of the passion and death of the Lord this week? If we are truly to experience the transforming power of the resurrection when we celebrate Easter next Sunday, we're called to take part as fully as we can in the liturgical actions of this week, reminding ourselves that we are all called to be disciples, to take up our cross and follow Jesus.

In today's New Testament Lesson, St. Paul shows us that to be like Jesus, we're called to empty ourselves of anything that would prevent us from doing what God wants, even to the point of dying. Following Jesus, then, especially in the tough times, is the way to glory and to eternal life. This is the way to acknowledge Jesus as our Lord and king, the way of the faithful disciple. The challenge for us during this Holy Week is this: can I remain faithful to this way of self-denial, following Jesus all the way to the cross, or will I be like the crowds, enjoying the good times, but giving up when the going gets tough? The only way to resurrection and new life is the way of Jesus, through suffering and death.

May God always be pleased with us!

Monsignor Michael

Our Scripture Lessons remind us:

...that Jesus did not want to be seen as a popular hero;

...that reading the passion, we compare the steadfast fidelity of Jesus with the fickleness of the crowds and the disciples;

...and that to celebrate the promise of resurrection at Easter, we have first to follow Jesus to the cross.

May God always be pleased with us. Amen!

MARCH 29, 2015 - PALM SUNDAY

SPREADING THE WORD

"Pilate again said to them, 'Then what shall I do with the man whom you call the King of the Jews?' And they cried out again, 'Crucify him.'" – Mark 15:12-13

Jesus told us "whatever you do for the least of my brothers, you do for me." Every day we are presented opportunities to help someone. Every day we have the opportunity to see the face of Jesus in others and be the face of Jesus to others. Pray for the courage to stand up for those in need of our help.

CHRISM MASS

Monday, March 30; 7:30 PM

Cathedral of St. Francis of Assisi; Metuchen, NJ

Bishop Paul G. Bootkoski will celebrate the Chrism Mass with the priests of the Diocese. At this time, the Bishop will bless the Holy Oils which each parish receives for the rites of anointing. St. Ambrose [340-397] began this custom-which we now call the Chrism Mass-in his Cathedral in Milan. These Holy Oils, which are used to sanctify the Faithful, have been channels of holiness for centuries!

Oil of Catechumens is used to anoint the chest of infants and hands of adults before their Baptism;

Oil of the Sick is used on the forehead and hands of the infirm in the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick;

Sacred Chrism is used to anoint the head of the newly baptized, the foreheads of confirmandi, the hands of a priest at his ordination, the head of a bishop at his ordination and the altar and walls of new churches.

At the Mass, all priests make a Renewal of Commitment to Priestly Service, recommitting themselves to their Bishop and to their ministry to God and His People; the Bishop and all Priests then ask the people for a pledge of their prayerful support.

All are strongly encouraged to join in the ancient, grace-filled Chrism Mass.

MARCH 29, 2015 - PALM SUNDAY

ST. ANN SCHOOL NEWS

Dear Friends of St. Ann School,

Green paper folded in half and cut in symmetrical parts. Math aligns with our faith. The paper unfolds and low and behold, Pre-K and Kindergarten find themselves holding a palm branch. This is no ordinary branch. They then learn the story of Palm Sunday.

St. Ann School will benefit from this simple project. Each student will receive a hand cut paper palm to be waved in procession as we open our school's Holy Week retreat.

Our youngest members will lead us in a procession and in the singing of "Hosanna".

The school does this on purpose and out of a growing tradition. "Out of the mouths of babes..." Yes, the young ones celebrate with pure hearts. It is these least tainted by the world who can put aside the struggles and disappointments of everyday life in order to be open to the wonder and awesomeness of God.

They arrive late to school, do not have their favorite snack, slip and fall over someone else's back pack, or lose their glue stick. It does not matter. None of these things takes away from the glory of God and the praise He is due.

Our little ones radiate joy as they sing with full voice. They do not worry about knowing the words or the quality of their voices. They just sing and God is well pleased.

This Holy Week let us take example from the sweet, meek, and lowly among us. Let us sing His praises and lift our eyes in wonder at what unfolds. The little ones do not know how to give part of them selves to what is happening around them.

So be it for us. May we give ourselves wholeheartedly to the unfolding of the Passion that we may bask in the glory of his Resurrection.

God bless you,

Sr. Mary Klersey, MPF
Principal
