THE MOST HOLY TRINITY SUNDAY - MAY 31, 2015

THE MOST HOLY TRINITY SUNDAY - MAY 31, 2015

Dear Sisters and Brothers,

Recently I saw a picture of a painting by the seventeenth-century Spanish artist Bartolomé Esteban Murillo. It is a painting, at first sight, of the Holy Family; but it has an odd title: The Heavenly and Earthly Trinities. In the center of the painting we see the child Jesus, standing on a rock, his hands held by Mary and Joseph, who sit either side of him. As the Christ child looks up, his face is brightened by the opening of the heavens, from where descends the Spirit, in the form of a dove, sent by the Father, visible as the clouds part. It is a picture of the centrality of Jesus as the one who opens up earth to heaven. It is a picture not just of the three people of the Holy Family and the three persons of the Holy Trinity, but, more profoundly, of the meaning of the Trinity itself.

I believe that what this painting most powerfully expresses is love. There is a loving we can all relate to in the familial love of Mary, Joseph and Jesus: the mother's adoring and delighted look at her son, the father's supportive hand, and the child's physical dependency on his parents. There is something properly human and "earthly" here. It is precisely here that we glimpse what is most true and most mysterious about God: that God is truly and totally God, and other than us, and yet, at the same time, comes to us as one of us, so that we can be sharers in His life.

This paradoxical mystery of God as both above all things and yet close to us is the dominant message of today's Scripture Lessons. It's a message that takes us to the heart of why, as Christians, we do everything "in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit". What becomes clear is that these words are not merely some ancient formula; nor are they expressing something nonsensical and obscure. Rather, these words tell us about God's abiding love for us---His presence with us, and the mission that He calls us to. The liveliness of this teaching of our faith is beautifully expressed by St. Paul in our New Testament Lesson. He presents us with an image of the Trinity not as something difficult and remote but as the very air we breathe when we pray. For when we are at prayer, we stand before God as our loving Father, as "coheirs"---family---with Jesus. Because we are born again in the Holy Spirit, this familial intimacy with God is a daily reality, an extraordinary presence in our ordinary living.

However, for us, as for the people of Israel when Moses addressed them, this loving intimacy with the Father is not just a cosy being-at-home with God. No, such a sharing in the Trinitarian life leads us to share, too, in God's great love for all people and for the whole of creation. This Trinitarian love is an active, outgoing love, a missionary loving. The risen Jesus, taking leave of his disciples at his ascension, not only says, "I'm going to prepare a place for you"; but also, as Matthew records, instructs his followers to go out and make disciples.

It is all too easy on Trinity Sunday to content ourselves with naming the Trinity as "mystery" and then go about our business as normal. Yet what today's Lessons teach us is that this is a profoundly practical teaching of our faith: the Trinity tells us who we are, as baptised people; it opens up the riches of prayer and intimate life with God; it assures us of God's closeness to us as we go out to do God's work in the world.

In practice, then, simply to begin each day "in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit" can be a way of entering, day by day, more deeply into this mystery of love. To call on God as our Father, Abba, throughout the day, is the practice of prayer that most closely brings us to Jesus, as his family, and opens our hearts afresh to the life of the Spirit. From such prayer we can find small but powerful ways of living the mission of the Trinity in our lives. Let's find moments in the coming week where, like God who is Trinity, we can go out to others in love, knowing God is with us in all things.

May God always be pleased with us!

Monsignor Michael

Our Scripture Lessons remind us:

...that Murillo's painting of The Heavenly and Earthly Trinities depicts God's great love in wanting to be with us in our own place. This divine desire is the heart of the Trinity;

...the scriptures describe this Trinitarian love, and the ways in which we participate in it and are called to mission by it;

...and that our Trinitarian prayer: "In the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit," can help inspire us to mission.

May God always be pleased with us. Amen!

"The Spirit itself bears witness with our spirit that we are children of God, and if children then heirs, heirs of God and joint heirs with Christ..." – Romans 8:16-17

If we are heirs to the kingdom of God, shouldn't we work to build up His kingdom? Shouldn't we be good stewards of our inheritance, using our time, talent and treasure to care for the Church that God has left to us? Our Church is a treasured heirloom from God. Do we treat it that way?

THE MOST HOLY TRINITY SUNDAY - MAY 31, 2015

Dear Friends of St. Ann School,

It is with great pride and pleasure that I present to you the class of 2015. Our graduates have chosen the following high schools. As they prepare to say good-bye to the halls of our school and clean out their locker for the last time, I know it is with mixed emotions. As eager as they are to begin the next chapter of their lives, they know they've spent good years here. They can trust the faith imparted to them. They know they have been taught well, but also loved and nurtured into the person God needs them to be to impact the world according to His designs.
