"...as you did it to one of the least of my brethren, you did it to me" – MATTHEW 25:40

Most of us are generous when it's convenient for us. We are generous when we have the time or the money. But, generosity is the opposite of that. It means giving of one's time, money, compassion, forgiveness, mercy when it's not convenient; when it's not on our schedule, but on the other person's schedule.

Dear Sisters and Brothers,

Oscar Wilde's story The Happy Prince describes a young prince who lived a secluded and affluent life. When he died, his subjects erected a statue of him covered with gold leaves, with two sapphires for eyes and a red ruby on the handle of his sword. One night a little swallow landed on the base of the statue to rest. He felt a few drops of rain fall on him. Looking up, he saw that the statue was crying. "Why are you crying?" asked the swallow. "When I was alive I saw no suffering," said the prince, "but now I see much unhappiness in the world and I would like to help, but I cannot move my feet." The swallow agreed to be his messenger.

"There is a mother tending a sick child who has no money for a doctor," said the prince, "take the ruby from my sword." With the ruby, the woman had her child treated. The next night the prince asked the swallow to take one of the sapphires to a little girl in the town square. She had sold no matches all day and was in danger of being beaten when she got home. The next task was to take the gold leaves and deliver them to needy people throughout the city. The swallow did all he was asked to do until one night the statue had no leaves left. The night was freezing and the next morning the swallow was found dead at the base of the statue. The prince had given away all he had with the help of his faithful messenger.

Today we celebrate Christ as our King. Our Scripture Lessons invite us to reflect on the kind of king Christ is and what it means for us to say that we belong to his kingdom. The first Lesson from Ezekiel suggests that human leaders have proved utterly unwilling to govern by God's principles, and so the Lord himself will come to lead us. This promise is fulfilled in the person of Jesus Christ, who used his authority to serve and assist others. God's idea of leadership is to tend to the needs of those who are vulnerable. We have a king who pays attention to us and helps us not only when we are needy and disadvantaged, but especially when we are needy and disadvantaged. Specific actions mentioned in today's Gospel Lesson are feeding the hungry, giving drink to the thirsty, clothing the naked, sheltering the homeless, visiting prisoners and taking care of the sick.

Is Christ a "king" then? Yes, but not in the sense in which other kings are kings. He is the only king who really does what we always, deep down, hope for from every kind of leader: he rescues us from evil and restores our tranquillity. He rescues us, St Paul says, from our deepest, darkest, most threatening enemies, sin and death, and he brings us into a new place, into new relationships, with God, with one another and with the world.

God knows whether our hearts are compassionate like the sheep in the Gospel Lesson, or if we are pretending to be compassionate, like the goats in the story. God wants our hearts to be truly compassionate, particularly singling out the hungry, the thirsty, the stranger, the naked, the sick and the imprisoned. Perhaps we could consider joining ministries to support that involve any of these groups of people. Perhaps we could help at a local food bank. We could learn more about the root causes of thirst and hunger in the world, and ways in which environmental groups are trying to conserve our natural resources. We could support peace groups that try to prevent wars. Do we welcome strangers to our area, such as refugees or people of other faiths? What about projects that help those who are sick, such as HIV/Aids projects, with World Aids Day coming up on December 1st? Or can we consider ways to support prisoners and their families?

Jesus is a king who constantly ministers to those in most need. The little swallow in Oscar Wilde's story didn't need to be wealthy or talented to help people who were struggling. All he needed was a warm and willing heart, serving his prince. We may reflect upon who rules in our world, and in our lives and hearts. All of us can do something in the service of our true king, and of each other.

May God always be pleased with us!

Monsignor Michael

Our Scripture Lessons remind us:

- ...that today's Scripture Lessons call us to recognise that Christ reigns in our lives;
- ...that Jesus bids us to follow him by loving of God with all our hearts, souls, minds and strength, and renouncing self and loving out neighbor as ourselves;
- ...and God calls us to serve our true king by being compassionate and working for those who are needy and vulnerable.

May God always be pleased with us. Amen!

2014 BISHOP'S ANNUAL APPEAL

Life-Changing Faith

When we recognize that everything we have and everything we are is a gift from God, how can we not be truly thankful? This sense of gratitude runs deep, compelling us to respond to the Lord's generosity with every ounce of our being and in every way possible. That's stewardship!

One way to express your gratitude to the Lord is by sharing your financial resources with others through the ministries supported by the Bishop's Annual Appeal. Please consider making a gift today.

To date, the Development Department has received pledges totaling $41,852.48 and payments totaling $37,680.66 from 174 parishioners. This represents 73.4% of your $57,000.00 goal.

Thank you for your efforts.

ST. ANN SCHOOL NEWS

Dear Friends of St. Ann School,

Our children are enjoying a Book Fair! They absolutely love to read. This fair is a popular event on many levels.

First, parents volunteer to man the sales table and to assist students in their selection and purchase. For many parents, it is the first time they interact with our students in other grades. It is an eye opener to say the least. Parents see first hand how mature our students can be. They watch how children develop and change over time.

Children need less and less actual help as they get older. But that does not mean that they are anti adult. In fact, our older children like the "TLC" (tender loving care) of an adult showing them personally books of interest.

I have the honor of listening to the children in their purchase process. Some are very into comparing prices and getting the most for their money. Some just want that one special book no matter what the cost. Others are more interested in what others are buying. And then there is the last group who just wants to be the grown-up and help all of the other children. No matter the category, all of the children sincerely look forward to the time they get to shop.

I wish to thank all those who came to support the Book Fair. The proceeds are used as a fund raiser and as a way to supplement school and classroom libraries. The gift of reading is something precious that lasts a life time and cannot be taken away.

God bless you,

Sr. Mary Klersey, MPF
